ANTIQUE TERRA COTTA FIREBRICK

Antique Terra Cotta Firebricks create an exquisite alternative look for fireplace interiors. We reclaim and trim ancient antique terra cotta pavers in South China to produce exceptionally long firebrick (12" in length) for constructing large-scale herringbone and chevron patterns. The antique edge of the pavers is preserved so that the original hand-crafted, textured edge is visible when installed. The beauty of the material is enhanced by the reflection of soft firelight, turning a simple firebox into a beautiful object in its own right. These reclaimed tiles may also be used for wine cellar floors. Set on edge they faithfully reproduce the ambiance of a first class European café. However they are used, Antique Terra Cotta Firebricks bring timeless beauty to any project.
